Plans for Marsh Lane bridge over Farmers Branch Creek to be unveiled at neighborhood meeting tonight

FARMERS BRANCH ~ In order to show preliminary plans for the replacement of the southbound Marsh Lane bridge over Farmers Branch Creek, the Farmers Branch Public Works Department is holding a Neighborhood Meeting on Monday, February 16 at 6:30 p.m. at the Farmers Branch Community Recreation Center.

Planned for the Pecan Room at the Rec Center, the meeting is designed for residents living adjacent to the project location, but anyone is welcome to attend.

Set lower than its northbound counterpart, the southbound Marsh Lane Bridge has flooded multiple times when Farmers Branch Creek has risen in heavy rains. The replacement project is being coordinated and equally funded by Dallas County and by the bond package approved by Farmers Branch voters last year for street replacement and repair.

For more information, contact Public Works at 972.919.2597.
